GENERAL SITUATION

New York City: New York City is now allowing outdoor graduations. Outdoor graduations can take place without capacity limits, but everyone in attendance will be required to wear masks and undergo health screenings.

New York State Governor Andrew Cuomo announced that with 70 percent of New Yorkers aged 18 or older having received the first dose of their COVID-19 vaccination series, the Empire State Plaza Complex, which includes the New York State Capitol and the Legislative Office Building, will reopen to the public on Friday, June 18. Additionally, tours of the Capitol resume on Monday, June 21, and the popular outdoor tours of the Empire State Plaza will start up again on Wednesday, July 7. Unvaccinated individuals will continue to be responsible for wearing masks, in accordance with federal CDC guidance.

The U.S. Open tennis tournament will allow 100% fan capacity later this summer when it returns to New York City. The overnight announcement from the U.S. Tennis Association comes after Governor Andrew Cuomo eased the remaining COVID restrictions for the state. It means no capacity restrictions, no social distancing and no proof of vaccination required.

The New York Mets announced that Citi Field will return to full capacity on Monday, June 21 for the Mets' doubleheader against the Atlanta Braves. Social distancing and mask requirements at the ballpark have been eased effective immediately. Fans no longer need to show proof of a negative COVID test and/or vaccination to enter the ballpark with a valid ticket.
