GENERAL SITUATION

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) updated its guidance on cleaning, and disinfecting everyday household surfaces, saying that in "most situations" with no known coronavirus exposure, a thorough scrub with soap and water will suffice – rather than disinfectant sprays and wipes – to ward off COVID-19.

New York: Anyone 16 or older in New York is now eligible to make an appointment and receive the COVID vaccine. People who live outside of the state but work or study in New York are also eligible to get vaccinated. People who are eligible based on employment include both paid and unpaid workers. Teens aged 16 and 17 will be limited to receiving the Pfizer vaccine because it is the only one that has been authorized for use by people under 18.

New York Governor Andrew Cuomo announced the creation of the Essential Workers Advisory Committee to provide design input and recommendations for a monument in New York City honoring the service and sacrifice of New York's essential workers throughout the COVID-19 pandemic.

New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio announced that New York City's public beaches and pools would open on time this spring and summer. The city's eight beaches will be open for Memorial Day weekend starting Saturday, May 29. New York City's public pools will open the first day of summer vacation for public school students on June 26.

Mayor de Blasio said New York City will hire 10,000 workers for a new "City Cleanup Corps." The team will address resident complaints of trash piling up across the city following last year's budget cuts caused by the pandemic. The corps will focus on 33 neighborhoods the de Blasio administration identified as ones hardest hit by coronavirus.

Mayor de Blasio announced that NYC is expanding its walk-up vaccination program for seniors. The pilot program will expand from three sites to 25.

Washington D.C., Mayor Muriel Bowser announced that all D.C. residents over the age of 16 will be eligible to receive the COVID-19 vaccine Monday, April 19.
