GENERAL SITUATION

CVS is now offering walk-in Covid-19 vaccinations at over 8,300 pharmacy locations in the United States. According to CVS, the company has a second-dose compliance rate of 90% at its vaccination locations and has administered over 17 million doses through federal and industry partnerships.

New York Governor Andrew Cuomo just announced that Broadway shows will be "ready to open September 14 at 100% capacity". Tickets will go on sale tomorrow. The logistics regarding how theaters will reopen are still being worked on.

Gov. Cuomo announced the New York Yankees and Mets are reopening stadiums May 19 with different capacity rules for vaccinated and unvaccinated sections.

The New York City Department of Education released their calendar for the next school year, and there are some pandemic practices from this past year. The most notable change is that there will be no more snow days. The DOE will shift all students to remote instruction in lieu of canceling schools due to severe weather conditions. Another big change, Election Day will be a remote learning day for students as well. The 2021-22 school year will begin on September 13 and, per state law, includes 180 days in session, inclusive of four staff development days during which students will not be in attendance.

New Jersey Governor Phil Murphy announced today that effective May 19th, New Jersey will lift the ban on interstate indoor youth competitions.

New Jersey Transit is working to make it easier for people to get vaccinated. It kicked off a partnership that offers complimentary rides to and from vaccination sites. The "Vaxride" program is funded through sponsors and will provide about 11,000 people living in New Jersey with two free round trips to get vaccinated.
